

TIM GITZEL
President and Chief Operating Officer Cameco Corporation

Tim Gitzel is the President and Chief Operating Officer of Cameco Corporation, based in Saskatoon. Cameco is the world's largest, low-cost uranium producer accounting for 20% of the world's uranium production. Cameco's mining and conversion facilities in North America provide fuel to the western world's nuclear power plants. Cameco also generates clean electricity through its investment in the Bruce Power nuclear facility in Ontario.

Prior to joining Cameco, Tim Gitzel was Executive Vice-President, mining business unit for AREVA, based in Paris, France, with responsibility for global uranium, gold, exploration and decommissioning operations in 11 countries around the world.

After graduating from the College of Law at the University of Saskatchewan in 1990, Tim served as a lawyer with the firm MacPherson, Leslie and Tyerman in Saskatoon, and also held the post of Senior Ministerial Assistant and Chief of Staff to the Saskatchewan Deputy Premier.

Tim Gitzel was born and raised in Saskatchewan. He has served as President of the Saskatchewan Mining Association, and on the boards of SaskEnergy, the Mining Association of Canada the Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce, and Junior Achievement. Tim was a cochair of the Royal Care campaign raising funds for the Royal University Hospital in Saskatoon.

Tim and his wife Bonnie and their children Ty and Bailey reside in Saskatoon.
